

Memorandum of Understanding

In recognition of the common missions of the European Society for Agronomy (ESA) and the Nordic Association of Agricultural Scientists (NJF), it is hereby mutually understood that a specific cooperative relationship among these two societies will be established and implemented, commencing in 2006. Primary areas of cooperation would include the following :

1. Mutual cross linkages to World Wide Web home pages to encourage member awareness of mutual objectives and programs.
2. Exchange of information to include newsletters among officers of the respective societies to enhance collaborative activities.
3. NJF members who join ESA will be granted half annual fee.
4. Explore mutually helpful activities such as provide reciprocally exhibits at general meetings.
5. According to the number of NJF members joining ESA, ESA may grant one or more free registrations at the ESA meetings. NJF will designate young researchers for this purpose.

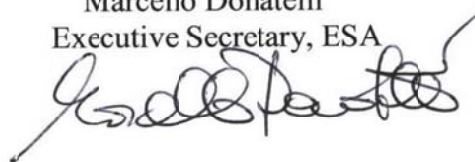

Implementation of these cooperative activities will proceed in accordance of each Societies policies and procedures, and it might be integrated by updating this memorandum of understanding.

Signatures to this Memorandum of Understanding, as of December 2005, are the following:

Mariusz Fotyma
President, ESA

Marcello Donatelli
Executive Secretary, ESA

Sveinn Aðalsteinsson
NJF President

Tord Eriksson
NJF General Secretary
